TURKEY DROPS FROM THE SKY

(By Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—The population of that lonely and barren western outpost of the continent, the Farallone Islands, was amazed and delighted the other day when manna in the form of a twenty-pound dressed turkey dropped by a parachute from the sky.

It was the result of a conspiracy between a San Francisco newspaper, an actress and an airplane company to bring a little cheer into the lives of the lighthouse keepers and their families, who are the sole occupants of the three groups of tiny islands and rocks that jut out of the Pacific thirty miles west of the Golden Gate.

The lighthouse stands on one of the south group, the only islands accessible by boat, the others being the North Farallones, a cluster of sharp rocks rising a hundred feet above the surf, and the Middle Rock, a huge precipitous projection.

The islands, which can be seen from the heights of San Francisco on clear days, are cut off from civilization owing to lack of regular transportation. Government boats and tugs lying in wait for tow, are the only visitors.

The Farallones constitute the last tip of the Coast range. Between them and the mainland the water is comparatively shallow, while beyond them the Pacific dips to unfathomable depths. Many vessels were dashed to pieces upon these rocks in the early days, and tradition tells of pirates making their haunts with Spanish treasure among the island crags and caves.

The first American who entered one of the caves which is reached by crawling through a long passageway, found in the cavern a skeleton of a woman, whose skull showed she was Caucasian.

In spite of the myth, many a husband thinks well of a wife—even though she may not be his own. Who remembers ever actually knowing a woman who uses a rolling pin upon her husband.

AMUSEMENTS

WEDS MILLIONAIRE, WAS IT FOR MONEY.

When a millionaire marries a girl, whose father is a bankrupt, he ought to have a pretty good hunch that she likes his "dough" as much as his personality—especially when she has already turned him down at a previous proposal. In "The Rescuing Angel," a Paramount picture starring Shirley Mason, Miss Mason plays the role of Angela, the girl who is caught in just such a peculiar situation. To cap the climax, a boyish lover whom she cared for but had to discard for a man with money, resented her attitude, and to prevent her marrying him rival explains to the rival that the girl wanted to marry him merely for his money. The boy didn't know, however, that the marriage had already taken place. One might say the poor fish should have known that it was his money she wanted, and not him, and shouldn't have had to be told that by a mere boy. But wait a minute—maybe in the beginning she didn't even know she loved him, but discovered it afterwards. If you want to find out all about it, drop into the Butler tonight and see "The Rescuing Angel." You will like it. It is a Class A picture. Added to the feature will be the latest Pathe News.

Tomorrow, Billie Burke, one of the popular screen favorites, in a splendid picture admirably suited to the dainty little star, entitled "Good Gracious Anabelle." Don't miss seeing Katherine MacDonald in "The Thunderbolt" Monday. You have never seen a picture like it.

PARTIES IN HONOR OF MISS THECKLA WRIGHT

Saturday evening Mrs. W. J. Pike entertained at a delightful party in honor of Miss Theckla Wright, who is here from Tonopah visiting for the holidays. Cards and music were enjoyed until a late hour, after which a dainty buffet supper was served. Hidden to greet Miss Wright were: Mesdames David Christen, Verne Hursh, Ernest Marvel, Deane Bush, L. O. Hawkins, Bernice Smith, Rosena Smart and Misses Beth Warren, Avery Davenport, Beatrice Lang, with Irma Hoskins.

There was a large assemblage of young people at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Born on Upper Railroad street Sunday evening, the occasion being a farewell party given by Miss Avery Davenport to her friend, Miss Theckla Wright, who returned to Tonopah after spending the holidays here with relatives.

It was a jolly crowd of young ladies and their escorts and all had a delightful time. At 6:30 a sumptuous dinner was served, after which the guests were entertained as a finale, at a theatre party at the American.

LORING TAKES INGALLS MINE AT TULE CANYON

W. J. Loring has taken an option on the Ingalls mine in Tule Canyon and the first payment of $10,000 comes due next week. This is another big deal put through by the Harry C. Stimler company and one that means great development for a section of Esmeralda county that has been neglected or overlooked by capitalists.

The Ingalls mine has been producing in a quiet way but the property possesses potentialities that warrant the new owners in developing on a large scale. Last year, according to reports, William A. Ingalls took out $25,000 in profits from the mine while several leasers also made good money. A. L. Borcherting was one of these whose lease helped swell the profits. The group comprises three claims which were operated in desultory fashion for the past thirty-five years before Ingalls began running for office. In the early days shipments were made to Candalaria and the freightage costs were so high that nothing less than $200 values were sent out. For three weeks the property has been sampled by representatives of the Loring interests who found the dumps carried a large tonnage of $40 ore.

Experts are now engaged in sampling the jagged group consisting of six claims which appears richer even than the Ingalls mine. If the reports are favorable the Loring interests will include that in their purchase in Tule Canyon.

GIFT PACKAGES GO TO GERMANY

(Correspondence of Associated Press) BERLIN, Dec. 22.—Ten million marks worth of charity gift packages, containing food and clothing, reached Germany from the United States, during the three months ending November 15.

Among the contents was 100,000 pounds of flour, an equal amount of bacon and 1,000,000 cans of milk.

The shipments are usually consigned to President Ebert, in order to prevent their deliveries being delayed by the official customs control.

The consignments received up to date have been allotted to industrial sections where the need is greatest, such as Upper Silesia, the Ruhr district, Saxony and Thuringia. The government is simplifying the importation of the parcels and waiving consignments, by removing the customs restrictions.
